

Esther

Passages that underwrite bloodline repentance as the prayers practice it.

Esther 4:14

If thou holdest thy peace, enlargement from another place; thou and thy father's house.

4:14 For if you remain silent at this time, relief and deliverance for the Jews will arise from another place, but you and your father's house will perish. And who knows if perhaps you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

Esther 8:6

How can I endure to see the destruction of my kindred?

8:6 For how could I bear to see the disaster that would befall my people? How could I bear to see the destruction of my kindred?"

Esther 9:27-28

The Jews ordained it for themselves and for their seed.

9:27 the Jews bound themselves to establish the custom that they and their descendants and all who join them should not fail to celebrate these two days at the appointed time each and every year, according to their regulation.

9:28 These days should be remembered and celebrated by every generation, family, province, and city, so that these days of Purim should not fail to be observed among the Jews, nor should the memory of them fade from their descendants.
