Good day everyone and welcome to this podcast. I'm your host Ashton. Today we're going to start a brand new series called Praying in Faith. We often take it for granted that Christians who are busy praying for things have faith when they are praying. But when you listen to their speech, when you listen to them speaking, after they have prayed, there's always this air of worry inside of their voice. And you're not judging them, but you can discern that they don't have much faith or confidence in what they have asked God for.

But before we get into it, I would like to welcome all of the new subscribers to my channel. Thank you very much and God bless you all. So today we're going to look at what is prayer, the purpose of prayer, the power of prayer, the supremacy of prayer, and how we need to engage in prayer in this podcast. Our prayers never die. In fact, our prayers have the ability to affect future generations. Our prayers outlive us. When we are standing in the gap for generational issues, you become saved, you realize that there are generational issues taking place within your life, and now you are praying against these generational strongholds, these family strongholds.

What you break off in prayer today, when you have prayed, will carry on to your child, children, and their children, because your prayer has stopped the attack of the enemy, and your prayer of blessings have followed your children. The Word of God says, If you forget me, I'll forget your children. So in your prayers, when you're remembering God, and you are having faith in Him, and serving Him, and are obedient to Him, He remembers your kids. So don't ever think that what you've prayed ends there.

Your prayers don't die. They carry on to the next generation. Your prayers, or our prayers, affect the natural and the spiritual realm. When we pray, we are speaking into the spiritual realm for a spiritual solution to our natural problems. Nothing happens until someone prays. If there is somebody who is sick, nothing is going to happen to that person. Only their body is going to start fighting with whatever immune system they have to try to keep that person well.

But when you and I take authority over the situation in faith, something supernaturally happens by the blood of Jesus. So remember, when you are in a circumstance and a situation, nothing is going to happen until you pray. Your prayer is the voice of faith to the Father. Your prayer is like a favorite child. When you go to the parent, the parent favors you. Not because you've done something special, but that parent just favors you. So we need to- In any situation, your prayer is that favor that is going to come from God to you or the situation.

Prayer is also the living word of God on your lips. You too have a living word. Your prayer, when you pray in faith, is alive. It goes up to the kingdom of heaven to make your requests made known. You may have a need and nobody around you will know about that need. But when you pray, you give a voice to that need. And that voice is heard in the kingdom of heaven by the Father. But, and there is a but, you have to pray in faith. So, when we read from the book of Hebrews, chapter 4, verses 16, it reads, So, we need to have confidence in God, knowing that He has all the supply.

We will ever need. We will never out-ask God for things. God has too much to give to us. But we've got to believe Him. We've got to have confidence in Him. We've got to know that when we release these words, these living words from our mouths, And as they go up to the kingdom of heaven, God is going to supply our needs. And with that, we can intercede for family. We can intercede for your village, your city, your nations. But I want to caution you, because sometimes we tend to jump the gun.

We need to pray first for ourselves. We need to pray that we have authority. And we don't pray that we have authority. We have the authority. We have to release the authority. So, when we are busy praying for ourselves, we are praying that we come into the full alignment with God's purposes for our lives. And when we have mastered it, when we have mastered the soul and this flesh, that can be out of hand sometimes, Then we can start praying for our brothers and sisters and parents, and taking authority over them.

And asking God, Father, help them intercede on their behalf, becoming an intercessor for them, standing in the gap. And when our home is now reaching the godly order, then we can step outside of our home, And then do the area, the road in which we live in. And we can intercede on behalf of our neighbors as we preach the gospel, share our faith. And sharing our faith sometimes can just be people watching us live out our faith. Praying for people on the road.

Praying a spiritual blessing into their situations. And that's how we start taking authority. And then we move on to the village that we live in. The borough that we live in. The area that we live in. Together with the church, we do a corporate prayer. And then from there, we can go on to the city. And from the city, we can then go on to the country. But first, it starts with you having confidence in God. That He's going to answer you. And you're going to have faith.

And you're going to release what you say in faith to Him. And you're going to believe that you receive it. And there are certain things you're going to do to assist your prayers. But we'll speak about that just now. So I'm not going to go too much on the authority that we have. Because this podcast is about authority. But it's not about using that authority. That's a whole separate section that we will have to go through on its own. And that might take several podcasts.

Because we also need to know how we have authority. Adam in the garden didn't have to pray. When God created Adam, Adam enjoyed the company of God. He enjoyed direct fellowship with God. He was boldly standing in the presence of God, naked. Boldly standing there. So, when Adam had a need, God had already saw Adam's need. And what was that need? He needed a helpmate. And you see, this is where we get the verses that says He already knows of our need.

It started in the garden. And He saw, we have a very tentative father. And He saw Adam had a need. And He met Adam's need before Adam could ask him to supply his need. And then, obviously, God came with Eve for Adam. And whatever Adam said, God established. Whatever Adam said, God established. And we know that because God told him to name all of the animals. And when He did, it was established. He gave them their nature. By the name, He also gave them their nature.

But, obviously, naming is also a separate podcast. And will probably be done in another podcast. Your prayer is twofold. It is a tool. And it is a weapon. Your prayer is a tool. And it is a weapon in Christ Jesus. A tool to help you. And a weapon to fight against the enemy. Because we don't throw fists at the enemy. We pray prayers against the enemy. And not against people because we don't do send back to send the prayers. We're not like that. We don't do witchcraft.

We pray against the powers and the principalities. Or the principalities and the powers. Prayer shows we depend on God. And we're not going to allow the situation we're in to overwhelm us. And remember in the beginning. The podcast I said, when we're looking at the person to see if they have faith for what they have prayed, but now we see they are overwhelmed by their situation. That is not faith. That is not faith at all. But when we overwhelm our situation with our faith, then God on the throne is definitely sending answers for us, whether in the form of a weapon, whether in the form of a tool, whether in the form of a supply, but it is coming back to us.

We don't buckle under the pressure. The pressure buckles under our prayer life. Luke 18 verse 1b says, men ought always to pray, both men and women ought always to pray and not faint. That's how we know if we are in right standing with our prayer life, if we are fainting under the pressure, then the situation is dominating us. But if we are dominating the situation, then we are doing what Luke says. Prayer is a time when the divinity meets with humanity for the fulfillment.

You have asked a supernatural thing for a natural problem, and it's going to meet, and it's going to be fulfilled for you. Whatever it is you ask that is within the will of God, it's going to be done for you. Jeremiah 33 verse 3 says, Call to me, and I will answer you. I will tell you wonderful and marvelous things that you know nothing about. I said previously that we don't use our fist when we are in battle. No, we use our prayer life. And if we are not used of praying, then the enemy is used of having victories over our lives.

And I want to point something out. One of the most powerful men of God, Apostle Paul, also had strong opposition from Satan. And sometimes Satan won. We are going to read from 1 Thessalonians 2 verse 18. We wanted to return to you. I myself tried to go back more than once, but Satan would not let us. This is why it is very important that our prayers must firstly be consistent. We have to be consistently praying and persistent in our prayers to the Father.

Father, apart from everything else that I mentioned, there must be no compromising within our prayer life. You do not start by saying, Father, bless me with the new house. But then later on say, okay, Father, bless me with an apartment. But then later on you say, okay, Father, bless me with the room to rent. Stand on what you have originally prayed for. That is the will of the Father. We cannot compromise within our prayer life. We cannot be from 0 to 60 in our prayer life also.

We start and 60 seconds later... Later, we are finished. Satan will overpower your prayers. He will overpower you. He will overcome you if you are too lazy to pray prayers that have faith in them, that are consistent, persistent and attack the enemy consistently. Instantly, we've got to be like the men of old who prayed unceasingly to the Father until there was a fruition of what they had prayed for. Prayer is a gateway through our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, to let all our requests be made known.

Like I said previously, you're giving a voice to your situation. It is not limited to the natural, but it is heard in the supernatural. You are affecting first the supernatural before the changes are seen in the natural. Nothing will happen to you on earth if you have not agreed with it in the supernatural. And even if you omit to pray, you are giving consent for it to happen to you, yet upon the natural. Prayer cancels the assignments of the enemy when you know your God-given authority.

The decrees you make in the realm of the Spirit actively cancels the assignments of the enemy because they are assigned to cause trouble to you. But if you do not speak up against it through prayer, you are agreeing to it and they will dominate you. And your life will not have the fruits God intended for it to have originally. When you are praying, you are calling for heaven's system into your life yet upon the earth. For heaven's purposes upon the earth, it will be birthed through you or whomever God chooses it to be birthed from.

So don't ever think that your prayers are not heard and they do nothing. You are calling heaven's answers, heaven's system for your earthly problems. In the Lord's Prayer, Jesus Christ teaches us that we call for the things of heaven, the will of heaven here upon the earth. We want to walk in heavenly ways on this natural earth. We are not part of the world system, but we are set apart from it because we are working in a divine manner that is purposed by God for our lives.

So what does prayer do in a nutshell? You have a prayer of faith and as said many times in the podcast, it yields results. With your prayer, you can bind the enemy, loose the enemy from you, set yourself free. Your prayer is a weapon. It is a sword sharper than any two-edged sword given to you by God. And it can work on the flesh, it can work in the supernatural, it can work for healing. It gives a voice to your requests because it brings your requests before God.

Prayer calls for the heavenly system here upon the earth. Prayer calls for the heavenly system here upon the earth. Prayer calls for the heavenly system here upon the earth. Prayer calls for the heavenly system here upon the earth. Prayer calls for the heavenly system here upon the earth. Prayer calls for the heavenly system here upon the earth. Guidance and understanding and the leading of the Holy Spirit to birth the heavenly purposes here upon the earth.

Your prayer life must be persistent. It must be diligently done. It must be in a request form. It must be in an attacking form. Because our enemies are consistently coming after us. A defeated enemy is not a dead enemy. So don't make the mistake of thinking that Jesus defeated them, they're dead. No. They're still around. And they're still dangerous. But you're more dangerous with faith. Your prayer answers our needs. You've got to believe. You've got to believe that the supply God has answers your need.

And your needs are met. And it's not based upon your time and what your eyes see. But it is based upon God's timing and your faith. You stand in faith. You wait for it. You pray for it.

You request it. You knock on God's door every day, 24-7 forward. God's going to release it to you. And then prayer also saves the lost. Your son, your daughter, your parents are willy-nilly. They're not too here. They're not too there. They're all over the show. You stand in the gap for them.

Your prayer requests to God to call them into repentance. Because the word of God says, No man cometh unto me lest the Father draw him. What does that mean? Unless the Father brings that person into repentance, that person sees the need for a physician, they will never come to me. But now you, in faith, pray for your family. Pray for your brothers and sisters. Pray for the drug addicts. Stand in the gap. So God calls them to repentance. Not because you want recognition or you want glory for it.

No. That you give to God. But you want to see them saved. And in the kingdom of heaven for you. My name is Ashton Campbell. And this is the first part of a series called How to Pray in Faith. I hope this has blessed you. It has definitely blessed me. And I look forward to the next podcast. God bless you all. You are positive. You are positive.
