

God's Design Christian Sex Education

Transcript of the God's Design podcast episode

---

Host: Ashton Campbell

Released: Mon, 15 Aug 2022 19:33:15 GMT · Length: 00:08:49

Source: <https://podcasters.spotify.com/pod/show/dream-interpretation/episodes/Gods-Design-Christian-Sex-Education-e1mhuij>

---

Automatic transcript. Not a word-perfect manuscript.

Good day and welcome to this podcast. I'm your host Ashton. Today we're going to take a break from faith over fear and we're going to focus on a topic and a subject that is plaguing the church and our teenagers inside of the church today. We have a big push by government to force feed our children their idea of what sexuality is. We as a church know that their gender is demonic. So we have to take a stand and we have to educate our kids on God's design for our bodies.

So in this podcast we are going to be dealing with sexuality. It is up to us to educate our children on the truth because if we don't then they will. One of the reasons you were created was to reproduce upon the earth. Our bodies were created male and female. They were designed by God to fit perfectly together in sexual unity. But both man and woman were created for a covenant relationship with God. God created male and female. One man for one woman and one woman for one man.

Jesus reiterates this when he says in Matthew chapter 19, And he answered and said unto them, Have you not read that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female? And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they too shall be one flesh. Marriage is a covenant instituted by God between a man and a woman only. This unity will through a covenant form a godly soul tie, and this soul tie will make these two become one flesh.

The word flesh in the Greek translates to one body, or kindred, or human nature. God sets a standard in the Old Testament for the Jewish people. He put two commandments in place to uphold this. Exodus 20 verse 14 reads, And this is the seven commandment. You shall not commit adultery. The ten commandment reads, You shall not covet your neighbor's wife. Later on, Jesus tightens the law further in Matthew 5 verses 27 and 28. And a portion of it reads, You shall not commit adultery.

But I say unto you, That whoever looks at a woman to lust for her, Has already committed adultery with her in his heart. So a married man cannot be thinking of other women when he has his wife, His own wife. And likewise, That's who the woman. She cannot be off fantasizing by some singer, rapper, or actor. In today's society, sex is viewed only from a medical and psychological standpoint. This is more of a secular viewpoint. The viewpoints of God are not considered anymore.

In fact, God has been totally taken out of the education equation. Without the understanding. Standing of the Creator's Implementation of Sex, we would easily abuse and misuse sex against the purpose it was intended for. Everything created by man comes with a manual. This manual gives the user the proper guidelines on how to use the equipment. Included are the limits of the equipment and also the safety warnings if it is abused. To protect you from being abused, God our Creator placed rules regarding the right way the natural use of our bodies as it pertains to sex and also its limits.

You were created spirit first, soul and body. Sex, while performed with the body, can negatively affect our soul and spirit. But the correct order is spirit, soul, then body. Our spirit connects with the Father through Christ Jesus. Our soul loves the Father and all things that He has commanded for us, we do. Our bodies do in obedience what our spirit and soul commands it to do. Anytime we use our sexuality outside God's design, that is, outside the plan of marriage, we have misused it.

Misusing leads to abusing it. Sooner or later, the abuse will feel like it is normal and we will suffer as a result of our thinking on how we should use our bodies. God made it simple for us to have a relationship. Sin made it hard. To use a simple analogy, when we were young, we were all like Play-Doh. When we met our first partner in life, the first encounter is like the first stencil used to make the shape on your sexuality. God intended there to be only one imprint that would be of your husband, likewise with the woman.

Through this simplicity, it is then easy, by God's design, for a couple to remain faithful. Our only desire would be with that one person, only because that was God's original intent. Your desire will be for your husband, that is in Genesis chapter 3. Without having the experience of sleeping around, there would be no need for any other kind of sexual experiences. That means, in simple terms, the Play-Doh would only be impacted by one stencil and the results will always be the same.

But if you had lions, tigers, giraffes, all imprinted on the dough, then there would be no real shape to identify with. Like the teaching I did on Soul Ties, each partner leaves you with something and takes something from you. It is from this plethora of relationships, do we get thoughts of being unfaithful and or never satisfied in our marriages, always thinking of that other person that got away. You can be impacted not only by sex, but what you watch.

And do and allow to happen to you or what you do for others. All this is like code being written in your mind and heart. The best way to protect yourself is by not allowing yourself to get into those situations. Ultimately, you were created either male or female, depending on your biology, to be in a covenant relationship with God. From this covenant relationship, he instituted a covenant relationship with your partner of the opposite sex. And this will ultimately leave you in good standing with our Father.