Automatic transcript. Not a word-perfect manuscript.

Good day and welcome back to my podcast. My name is Ashton Campbell. This is the second installment of my podcast on generational curses. If you haven't checked out the first one, please check out the link in the description below. Click on that link and listen to the first podcast. It's about 35 minutes long. And in that podcast, I had a look at a biblical view on generational curses and I showed through scriptures how Moses was actually affected by a generational curse while leading the people of Israel to the promised land.

So a little history about myself. I was married. I have a daughter. And I went to go work for a multinational company. And while I was working in this multinational company, I began to experience severe delinquency in my behaviors. And just about every week I was broke and I couldn't understand what was going on. So eventually I got married, had a kid, and my life fell apart. And by that I mean I got divorced and I struggled to understand what had been happening to me.

But in this whole process, but in this whole process, I got saved. And I was in a religion. I didn't know what being saved was. If you're in a religion, being saved is a foreign concept because this religion is your savior. This religion is going to take you to heaven. And what I realized is that I was in a religion. And what I realized is that I was in a religion, but this religion was wholly ignorant to the issues that I was facing. And so I got saved.

And while I was at work, I would sing gospel songs or hymns. And I noticed while I was singing, it would affect certain people in such a manner that they would run away. And they would refrain coming and standing around me or by my work area. And I never understood this. And some individuals would actually manifest. And they wouldn't manifest because I was saved. It was God showing me something that I was wholly ignorant about. And I remember, I always used to say to God, Lord, why are you showing me this thing? I'd be working, minding my own business, and I'd look up.

And in between all of the machinery, this gentleman would be walking and his eyes would start rolling. And I'd say, Lord, am I going off here? Or is there something you are trying to show me? And then I realized it wasn't only one. It was several of them. And the more I got into singing and praise and worship at work, the more it began to irritate and affect them negatively. And they would run or stay away from my area. But the thing is, the coldest water at the place that I was working was by my area because my area was well shaded.

So if you're thirsty, you'd want to go and come get water by my section. So while I was getting saved and not understanding what's going on with my life, in this container was a bent cross and I was saved but I still had a religious mindset. Being saved doesn't change your mindset. You've got to renew your mind through the word and meditate on it and it's just not automatic. And I found this bent cross and I picked it up and I was thinking, how am I going to straighten this cross? And this electrician came past, he took the cross for me and said, I'll straighten it for you.

I think he must have known because of all the singing and what they would probably perceive as craziness that was happening to me because I just get happy and excited and so on. And he came back and he had straightened the cross and I said, wow, look at this. And I went to the QC department, I got some red paint and I sprayed three dots on it and I took the cross and I just put it, I put it at the center of my workplace and I didn't think much of it.

And I carried on working and I carried on working and it was on this jig that, as I put the parts on, it turned so the jig could do 360 in both directions. And as I put it on there, the same people that were irritated by me singing praise and worship to Christ Jesus. One day while I was working, I had turned the jig and the cross turned in the direction of the sky and his head dropped to the floor. Not literally dropped, but he looked down, it was like something pulled him down and my eyes popped right open to say, well, what's going on now? And then I looked at the cross and I realized that as I turned it and he was walking my direction, his head went down.

He bowed to the cross. He couldn't stand the cross and God gave me a revelation that this is not a place of work. This is actually a temple. People have used this place to practice witchcraft. People have used it to gain monies through crooked means. And here there's a lot of ungodly things that take place. And I was quite stunned because I had just taken it while we're working together, we're earning money and then we go home. Not in Africa, no. In Africa, there's competition.

And I was a victim of the witchcraft. I had a locker placed in my work area. And the guy who placed the locker, Zulu guy, black male, he was leaving. And I walked behind him and I said, hey, can I have the locker, please? And he was hesitant to give me the locker, but because he was leaving and never coming back, he said, sure. So I got some tools and I busted the lock open. And as I busted the lock open, I see an empty locker, for the most part, and a packet inside of it.

And I didn't know better at the time. I picked up the packet and I opened it and there was all of these herbs and leaves and other stuff inside of there. And I called my team leader and I said to him, have a look at this. And he came and he said, throw it away! Because he's a Zulu guy and he knew exactly what it was. And I realized that this was witchcraft. And it was witchcraft used. Against me. To promote my delinquency, to promote my failure. And I threw it away.

And I didn't know about cancelling things and stuff like that. I was wholly ignorant. And so for the next few years, while being saved, I battled and I suffered. And I hit rock bottom. And when I hit rock bottom, I remember I was standing in a bank. And I was trying to get a bank statement. And I'm standing in this queue and this lady is looking at me. She's the bank teller in the front. And she was doing bank statements and, you know, these customer service people.

And I was completely dejected. I was unemployed. There was no source of income. I was in town. A few mistakes had happened financially. And so I was just in a very poor state. I was still saved. But in a very poor state. And I get to the front there. And she says, I don't know you. And you don't know me. Please understand that I don't practice witchcraft. I'm not into voodoo. I'm not into anything. But God has placed this on my heart. And he has told me.

And he has told me to tell you that he loves you. And every emotion imaginable came over me. Because up until that point, I was really stressed out. And I felt, I'm not loved. And to hear it from a stranger speaking directly to my situation was mind-blowing. And immediately a weight lifted off my shoulders. And I left that place not in the obedient state. Because she had made arrangements for me to meet a group of Christians. And I was still in this religious occultic church.

So my ties to the church were very strong. And I didn't go. And that was my mistake and my choice. And I continued to suffer for a very long time. And eventually I did go to a saved church. And God began to work on me. And he began to remove certain obstacles. And then I left the saved church. So it was quite tough for me. And again, I spent some time out of the church. And my life still wasn't going right. And I began to start looking at the scriptures to find out what is exactly happening to me.

Because these American preachers that I used to listen to, they can preach you happy. They can preach you. They can get you excited. But it's really just sugar in a pill. And as I began to look at scriptures, I began to see patterns in my family that were against the will of God. And I began to see the consequences working in my life. And it was working at such a speed that I realized that if I don't do something about this, it's going to ruin me.

And so I... I stopped listening to all these preach-you-happy pastors. I began to start searching for information that pertains to my situation and God was very happy and pleased and eager to assist me and to show me exactly what the root issues were in my life. And he did this through dreams. Many times through dreams. I would dream about frogs. I would dream about lizards. I would dream about snakes, green snakes, black snakes, black and white snakes, long snakes, snakes the length of a road.

I would dream about water. I would dream about the ocean, cliffs. There were many things that were coming to me in my dreams that I needed help understanding. But he was showing me my foundations. And he was showing me my roots. And when I began to see what was happening to me and I began to relate it to who my ancestors were and what they were busy doing, then I started to break many strongholds in my life. And places I was wholly ignorant. I had no patience in.

I was angry, bitter. I began to receive deliverance in those areas. And to the point where now if something happens to me, the old me would have responded in such a violent manner. Then the new me just looks at it and says, oh well, doesn't really affect me in a negative way. Even though it had a negative impact on the situation, it never negatively affected me as it would in the past. And I knew I was now being set free by the things I was doing through scripture with the blood of Jesus, cleaning up my bloodline.

And so this is what this podcast is all about. It's not about focusing on just the, it's not just focusing about the alcohol aspects and the drug aspects, the common things that we see every day, but it's focusing on the deep-rooted aspects. And that being, what did my ancestors do before I was born that caused me to be caged the way I was caged? Now, you might have family members who were Christians. Your mother and father were Christians and their mother and father were Christians and their parents were Christians and their parents were Christians.

And you've never experienced anything like this. Well done. Congratulations. I am happy for your family and your bloodline. But not all of us have bloodlines that come from serving God. And so if you, the type of Christian that just quotes the Bible and because your life is all good and all hunky-dory and you just quote this, quote that, then I suggest you cut the video.

Thank you very much for your 15 minutes of listening and let those, and let those who have bloodline issues continue listening so that maybe they will be able to be helped by this podcast.

That's my introduction. And without any further ado, let's say, Have a look at where all started. And so we see Adam and Eve, after they had sinned, and they are standing before God, they are receiving punishment. We read from Genesis chapter 3, verses 14 and 15. And the Lord God said to the serpent, This is the first mention of the gospel being introduced in the garden. It's also the first mention of the Messiah that God promised for our salvation.

If you read the whole account, you will see that the serpent is never questioned by God. He asked Adam questions, he asked Eve questions. And immediately the serpent is cursed. There was no need to curse the serpent. He was convicted already. And he could never receive a pardon from God. The fact that he was in the garden as a serpent lets you know his fall already happened. Genesis 3, verse 15 carries a blessing, the promise of the Messiah. It carries the skills required to war against the enemy.

And the skill will be given to the woman and her descendants. And between her descendants and the serpent's descendants, there is going to be a war. So, God was addressing a very serious issue in the garden. When the serpent came upon the scene, he came and he brought a false sense of peace. Eve experienced this with Satan because she wasn't afraid of the devil. And there existed no enmity between the two. So, God divides the world into two camps when he is speaking in Genesis 3, verse 15.

The camp of the woman and the camp of the serpent. The woman was first seduced. So, God sorted her out. The issue of being so easily seduced by the serpent. God put enmity between her and him. Secondly, the woman will play a role in man's redemption. By her role in bringing Adam to sin, her new role will bring the Savior to save us from sin. So, we see there is something generational God is doing. So, the question is, who is the woman's seed? Eve had two sons, Cain and Abel.

We read from Genesis 4, verse 8. And Cain talked with Abel, his brother. And it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against his brother and slew him. We see Cain committed murder. In 1 John 3, verse 12, John says, Not as Cain, who was of the wicked one, and slew his brother, and wherefore he slew him. Because his own works were evil and his brothers were righteous. Physically Cain was the son of Eve, yet spiritually he was the seed of the serpent.

Now you can look at your own family history and look at your own family members. There's always that one person that just aggravates everybody. When that person shows up, you know the piece is going to be thrown out the window. We all could be having a very good time and everything is going nicely, but when that member rocks up and they've had a few drinks or they see somebody they don't like and they've got something on their chest, they make these nasty comments and quickly there's a division.

You may all share the same grandmother and grandfather or the same parents, but in the attitudes, you'll get those who are happy, who are giving, who are loving and you'll get some who are just nasty. They're nasty towards you, they're nasty towards everybody else in the family and these are the kind of people you don't really want to attend the family functions. These are the ones you say to yourself, I hope so and so doesn't come. So when you look at Cain, you begin to think, is this the root problem of that family member? Now I'm not saying you must see yourself as righteous and self-righteous and lord yourself over people because we are all sinners and we only have righteousness through Christ.

But when you are trying to address an issue, could this be a possible issue that not everybody in the family is the seed of the woman? Could some family members actually be the seed of Satan? And these are questions you've got to ask yourself. Don't be wholly ignorant about Satan's devices. Then Eve has another son in Genesis 4 verse 25 and 26 and we see Seth as one who is in the line of grace and under whose influence people call out upon the name of the Lord.

So the people are calling out to God corporately through Seth's bloodline. He has the righteous bloodline. When God focuses on Adam in the garden, there's a lot of mercy given to Adam. He says, cursed is the ground because of you and doesn't put a direct curse on Adam. The labor is not the curse because in the garden, Adam was already laboring. God said, tell the soil, look after the garden. But the toil in the labor, that is the curse. The Oxford Dictionary describes toil as work extremely hard or incessantly.

The second part of it is all that hard work is going to yield very little. He will be hampered by thorns and thistles. And the third part is that he will have no earthly rest. He will continually have burdens. And the first burden that was placed upon him was Cain murdering Abel. And then finally, it would be death. So when the garden says, if you eat of the fruit, thou shall surely die. But in the execution of the judgment, God has mercy and allows Adam to live his life until death.

So I just want to go back quickly to Cain. We see after Cain murders Abel that he's... Visited by God and God puts judgment on him. But he marks him and he protects him. And Cain departs from God because now he's a sinner, he's a murderer, and he's become a vagabond. But Cain goes and dwells in cities. That's what the Bible says. What is interesting is that Cain, who was the third person upon the earth, a murderer, a sinner, the seed of the evil one, went to go live in a city.

Now it's not a city as we imagine cities to be like New York, Durban, Dubai. No, it is more of a village type city. And the influence of Cain upon that city created a stronghold in that city. When you look at people who live in places like the projects, the block of flats, government, housing, you see that there's a strong influence of violence, murder, crime. Children have it very difficult growing up in those areas. The question then comes into play is, because Cain was the first one to take his sin and his curses with him to go live in a city.

Could then the influence of Cain not be over these projects, these government, housing, these areas that don't have proper access to services? Could this not be Cain at work? Could Cain not be the covering over the area? And so when you're busy trying to assist in the area and you're praying, then you should break the spirit of Cain over the area. Then you should bind that spirit, because Cain was the first one to take all of his sin and concentrate it in a city.

So as a church group, it would be very important to break those influences off the area. And you cannot just rescue one. If you have a plan for one, make it a plan for all. There are many Bible verses that tell us that evil communications corrupt good morals. So you can imagine the impact Cain had upon that city and the generations to follow of the Cain who lived in those cities. And so we're going back to the Israelites and they've just been released from Egypt.

And Moses is coming down with the Ten Commandments and he's giving them the Ten Commandments. And I just want to look at some of the Ten Commandments that hold a generational curse. And the first one he says, I am the Lord thy God, which hath brought thee out of the land of Egypt and out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. This alone introduces us to a generational curse. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, no statues or any likeness of anything that is in the heaven above or that is in the earth beneath or that is in the water under the earth.

This goes to my dreams where I am under the water. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image. In the water, looking at things inside of the water, thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them. For I, the Lord thy God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me, and showing mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments.

If we recall with Eve, God had set enmity between the serpent and Eve, well her seed. He had ensured that the men and women will no longer be seduced by the serpent. And we see in this commandment that the Lord is saying, you will have no other gods before me. You will not seek them out. If we go back to the garden, He had already put the seed inside of us, the enmity, to war against such things. And so we find that people who willingly and willfully seek these things out are directly coming against God.

They are coming against the plans that He has for their lives, they are coming against the will He has for their lives, and they are coming against God Himself by serving Satan. He said that He said that He will bless those that love Him. So this is the point I would like to drive, is that we may have family members, our parents, our parents, parents, parents, our parents, parents, parents, great-grandparents, and so on, who never repented of actively seeking out Satan through witchcraft.

And these people have passed on, they've had children, they've never spoken about their occultic practices, and your children are born, and they are living under a curse, because they themselves have never heard the gospel, or never received the gospel, or never wanted to know Jesus, but just lived. I'm not saying they were not successful, they probably had careers, and those doors remained open. And so the next generation, until the curse begins to explode in such a manner, that the people who are living under the curse no longer know what is going on in their lives.

And they find they are losing and having tremendous loss, and relationships are failing, finances are failing, situations around them are failing, opportunities are being closed, because this curse that is taking place, this unrepentant curse has become strong, and it has gathered momentum through the generations. And so it's only eventually when you realize that something supernatural is happening to you, and you seek out the Lord, you seek out Christ Jesus, you seek out all the benefits that He has under the new covenant, it is only then, once you start applying it, by going back into your bloodline, and by repenting of the sins of your ancestors, can you eventually break free from all those curses.

Christ has already did it on the cross. We just have to take what He has done on the cross, and blood wash our ancestry with it. All things become new that touch the blood of Christ. So when you're looking for patterns in your family, then look at the word of God. We see in Deuteronomy 27 verse 15, what brings in a curse? Now it may not necessarily bring in a generational curse, but it does bring in a curse. And reiterated is making a carved image, treating parents with contempt.

That means treating them as worthless. You dishonor your parents, they're beneath your consideration. Moving your neighbor's boundaries, causing a blind person to stumble. Preventing injustice to the widow, to the orphan. Laying with your father's wife, laying with animals, laying with any of your sisters. Sleeping with your mother-in-law, attacking your neighbor. How we see people jump their neighbors, that brings in a curse. Taking a bribe to kill.

And then to somebody who's rebellious, that does not want to conform, a curse is also placed upon them. So when you're viewing your own actions in life, the blessings and curses carry on in Deuteronomy chapter 28. We're just going to focus on the cursing part. Because when you're looking at your life and you're beginning to see what are the patterns that keep reoccurring in your life, then you search the scriptures and see what it is that the people did that brought these curses into their lives.

So from chapter 15 we read, cursed in the city and country. So you've got no fortune whether you're in a city or whether you're in the land. Your bread basket will be cursed. How many times people go to bed hungry, there's no money for bread. Verse 18 says, your children will be cursed. The calves will be cursed. The lambs of your flocks will be cursed. This is a generational curse. It won't fall upon you, it's going to fall upon your children. Cursed when you come in and leave.

That's the spirit of rejection. Confusion, you find somebody coming in and you say, oh, this person again. And when they leave, oh, thank you Lord, they've left. Confusion, rebuke in everything you put your hand to. Again, this brings me back to when I was working. How confused I was. How much issues I had with management. And every time I put my hand to something, there was always an issue. Plague you with diseases. Verse 22 says, you'll have fever, inflammation.

Inflammation of the joints. Inflammation of the knees. Inflammation of the wrists. Inflammation. Blight on plants and mildew. So not even your crops will be successful. The sky over your head will be bronzed. That's verse 23. Will be bronzed. Do we remember the Greece fires? The Turkey fires? The fires in Spain? The fires in Portugal? What color were the skies? What about the fires in California? And the fires in South Africa? The sky turned bronze.

And this is a curse that God said will be upon you. Verse 24 speaks about the desert. Verse 25 speaks about being defeated by your enemies. People always get the better of you. They always seem to win and you never seem to win. Verse 26 speaks about dying out of the covenants. Having a gruesome day. Not even being buried. Verse 27 speaks about boils, and tumors, festering sores, and itch. The itch is what? Eczema, crabs, dandruff, and there'll be no cure for it.

Verse 28 speaks about madness, blindness, confusion of the mind. And verse 29 speaks about being aimless, unsuccessful in everything that you do, waking up at no point of the day. It speaks of being robbed, and no one around to rescue you. Verse 30 speaks of failed relationships. Even your guaranteed relationship, that one will fail. The one that you think is in the bag, that one is also going to fail. Your own things will be used for others' benefits.

How often have people come and made their things your own? That is a curse. Your profit been eaten by other people? That is a curse. Verse 32 says, your kids will go in bondage, and you'll be powerless to help them. That is a curse, when you cannot help your child, and your child, you see your child suffering in bondage. Verse 34 says, you will witness horrible things in your life. Verse 35 speaks about boils on the knees and on the legs. Verse 36 speaks about becoming a servant to another master.

So you yourself never become a master. Or if you were a master, you get cut down very low. Becoming a thing of horror. And when I was thinking about this, my mind went to that of a drug addict. This person who was a wonderful person that got involved in drugs. And when you look at them now, they're so steep in the drugs, they're not bought. They don't look after themselves. When you see them, it's just horrific sight to see. They lose themselves. You'll plant seed, and you'll plant plenty of seed.

But you'll have huge losses. Verse 38, 39. The same will be with your grapes that you plant. Verse 40 speaks of crops failure. Verse 41, bondage of your children. Verse 42, failure in crops again. This is wheat and crops of that nature. Verse 43, immigrants will be more successful than you. The immigrants will lend to you, but you will not lend to them. These people will become the head, and you will become the tail. That is a curse. Verse 45, hunger and dire poverty.

So if you are constantly hungry, and there's dire poverty in the home, this is a curse. Thirst and nakedness. Fear of plagues. And your descendants, harsh, long disasters. Illnesses that never seem to go away. That is a curse. Been sick for years and years and years. That is a curse. It's in verse 59. And of course there are other curses that have been added to this. One last thing I want to speak about is the self-imposed curse. These are the words that we call into our lives.

These are things that we speak over our lives. And of course... And of course... Other people will speak things over our lives and those things may materialize. But I'm talking about the curses we place over our lives. Where we say things like, nothing ever good happens to me. That is a self-imposed curse. Where we say things like, especially when we're growing up, I don't want to grow old. That is a curse over your life. Or if you decide to say, at the age of 60, I'm not going to live anymore.

That is a self-imposed curse. Those curses will come to fruition. So when you are looking at your life and you're trying to find the generational curses that have come through your family. I use the example of Abram. You can go check the first podcast for that. And you're looking at how things are going in your life. Then you need to start also minding what you say. Your words are important. Your words matter. The Bible says, death and life are in the power of the tongue.

And you will have what you say. So people need to stop calling these curses upon themselves. You are your own worst enemy. The Bible says that the tongue is an unruly evil. And if you are going to place curses upon your life, and those curses are going to then affect your kids, because you are now in dire poverty. Your kids are born in dire poverty, and their kids are born in dire poverty, and nobody has the means to break the dire poverty. Then you need to start checking what you've been cursing and putting over your lives.

And watch what you say to your children, because you will lock, block, and cage your children by the words of your mouth. I know it happened to me, and it's only when I started becoming clued up about my situation, and what the word is saying about my situation, that I could turn around and say, please don't say that to me. Cancel what you said. Reverse those words. Speak blessings over my life. And so that brings me to the close of this podcast. I wasn't even sure I was going to do it because of the rain, and I just thought to myself, the noise might affect the podcast, but I decided I'm going to do it anyway.

I hope you enjoyed this installment. I hope it has blessed you. I hope it has helped you in just conscientizing your mind around your situation and what is going on in your life. If there are any pointers you can see from the Bible that are visible in your life, that are running your life, then we can use the blood of Jesus to break those curses over our lives. I'm your host, Ashton Campbell, and I thank you for staying so long with me in this podcast, and I hope you've been blessed by it.

And I look forward to doing the third installment, and I look forward to having you joining me on that journey on the third installment. God bless you, and stay safe. Good day, I'm your host, Ashton Campbell, and welcome to Breaking Generational Curses. This is the third installment of the series, Breaking Generational Curses, Breaking the Cycles of Generational Curses. In the first two, we looked at the Bible's view of generational curses, and we looked at what curses could be levied against you as you are currently living now.

You may have things happening in your life that you cannot understand, but these things you may have inherited through your ancestors. Today we're going to speak about our own bloodline and what exactly should we be looking at when we are trying to trace what is affecting us currently today and the roots thereof. If we inherit looks and skills from our ancestors, then we have to ask ourselves, what else have they given us spiritually? Actually, families before our time or even in our time have made covenants.

We are not sure what our ancestors have made a covenant with or who they made a covenant with and for what is the reason they made those covenants with. Families have vices and the spirits that are behind the covenants, the enforcers, that's what they call enforcers. These enforcers, they induce things like alcohol, drug addiction, violence, they make people angry, people suffer from anxiety, they breed fear into the family. They put things like generational poverty inside of the family.

They put poverty mindsets inside of the family. And in order for us to recognize why we are in the situations that we're in, for example, why we are at the age of 40 and not married, why we have relationships that continually fail, yet when we look at other people who are considered worse off than us, but yet they have such successful relationships, or at least long-lasting relationships, then we have to start looking at what is at play in our lives.

There is a level that goes beyond what you have done in your life. We are purchased by the blood of the Lamb. All who accept this free gift, receive it after repentance. Once you have repented, you receive the free gift of God. I am choosing to enter into the covenant with Christ, that's what you are saying. But before Christ Jesus, when he gave us this covenant of love, what were the covenants my ancestors were making, and what contracts had they had entered into into the realm of the Spirit, and what are the spiritual legal issues that I am now currently dealing with in my life today.

A covenant is a legal contract between a higher power and a lower power. The higher power will offer benefits to the lower power as long as the lower power continues to serve the higher power. So our ancestors, if they had wanted some sort of gain or victory, would then seek out a higher power. It may not have been God, it may have been something that the village was worshipping at the time, or it may have been the God of the area at the time. So they would go to the higher power, and they would ask for benefits from the higher power.

But in order for the higher power to give these benefits, a contract and an agreement had to be reached. Now God was very clear when he said that you should have no other gods before him, and that he would visit the iniquities of the fathers and the forefathers upon the children. So just like the looks that we inherited from our parents, So just like the looks that we inherited from our parents, we all seem to have slightly spent their early parents' empathy when they get to face after their parents' money.

God also inherited these contracts and covenants through our ancestral bloodline and we are now in a space where we have to deal with it. But God has provided the provision for us to break these cycles over our lives. God constantly speaks of foundations and when He's dealing with us, He says that He will look at our foundations to see what is really there. When we are dealing with ancestral covenants and contracts and agreements, then we need to pray and ask God to show us our foundations so that we can see.

Now, we may not physically see the foundations, but we will spiritually see the foundations and what is inside those foundations. Another source of information for us is to go and ask our parents. I need to ask you a question. Have you ever consulted a tarot card reader? Have you ever consulted a palm reader? Have you ever consulted a medium? Have you ever consulted a witch doctor? A sangoma? Have you ever read tea leaves? Have you ever done anything that is against the will of God? And do you know if maybe granny or grandpa had done such things? Did you have a spiritual bath? Did you ever go to the ocean or the river? Did you slaughter a chicken? Did you slaughter a cow? Did you slaughter a bull or a goat? Were you ever covered in blood? What was the reason for it? These questions help you understand what legal contracts your ancestors may have entered into.

Spiritual contracts don't work like physical contracts. God laid down the foundations for all spiritual contracts. When he met Abram, he said to Abram, I will be with you. I will be with your descendants. He said, I will be your God and you will be my people. He said that we must obey him. And there are various rules that the Lord sets out in the contract. God being the higher power and Abram being the lower power or the vassal. Every other spiritual contract follows this principle, except the contracts our ancestors entered into do not bless, but they curse.

Genesis 12, 1-3 says, And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed and after thee and in their generation for an everlasting covenant to be with God. Now take note of that word, an everlasting covenant. The spirits that our parents or great-grandparents have gone to to consult are there not for that specific time only. They're not there for a month. They're not there for a day. They don't leave when whatever purposes they were needed for is completed.

No, according to the spiritual laws of God, it is everlasting. So they're there to stay in our lives. So in the same pattern that Adam sinned and defiled the land and had an issue with God afterwards is the same pattern our ancestors follow who are not in Christ Jesus. Your genealogy in you carries a history. And at your birth, you inherited the family name. I have personally been on a two-year journey. Cleaning my bloodline from my dad's side and my mother's side.

Everything my family valued that we did effortlessly together needed to be evaluated and reassessed. What I considered normal behavior, I had to come against it with the word of God so I can correct my behaviors that I have inherited through my family. And I was able to do this because I picked up my cross and I viewed the traditions of men that were in my family and I stood against it with the blood of Jesus. Now Jesus is an intricate part in the role that he has to play to break all the iniquities, the transgressions and the sins and covenants that are in our bloodline.

Because all that our family did and our ancestors did was make war against God with the things they did to foreign gods. So whatever I have inherited in my bloodline that is negative, I no longer use it. I no longer agree with it. I no longer accept it. I have analyzed what it is and I have cut it out of my life. Whatever is good that was handed down from generation to generation, that part I keep and walk with it because that's the part I'm going to give to my children. 1 Peter 2 verse 9 says, But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, his own special people, that you may proclaim the praises of him who called you out of the darkness into his marvelous light.

The promise of priesthood comes from the Levites, the tribe of Moses. They were chosen by God to serve him and the people. They were set apart by God, holy in their service unto the Lord. Numbers 18 verse 20 says, Then the Lord said to Aaron, You shall have no inheritance in the land, nor shall you have any portion among them. I am your portion and your inheritance among the children of Israel. God himself was the inheritance. We are God's children now, reborn into his son's covenant that makes us the royal priesthood who work for him and declare the praises of him.

So we have the inheritance of God, one single inheritance. So our past inheritance must fall, must be nullified. All demonic handwriting of ordinances against us must be blood washed. We receive the blood from the cross to wash away all those ordinances set up against us. Colossians 2 says, Having wiped out the handwriting of requirements that was against us, which was contrary to us, and he has taken it out of the way, having nailed it to the cross.

That is the free gift of Christ Jesus. So we now take the payment of the cross to our debtors and settle all of our debts with them. And I'm speaking of the debtors in the spiritual realm. The payment Christ made for us was made in full. We are just issuing proof of payment as a child of God to our debtors. We are no longer in debt, so their operations in our life need to cease. The Bible tells us that our ancestors migrated from the Tower of Babel thousands of years ago.

And they split up and went into various directions upon the earth. There were many distinctions, many tribes, many kingdoms. Some became slaves, others became merchants. Some came down into Africa and became hunters. And the list is endless. Those who moved into Africa, they endured the heat. They endured the wild animals. Those who went to Europe endured cooler climates. Either way, people's features changed over time. And in order to survive, your family, your ancestors, may have been killers, may have been soldiers.

And in some places, they may have been cannibals, eating other people. People, each member of your bloodline, added something to the DNA that we have now. And we know this because the Word of God says that all men have sinned. So these sins, we know, are in our bloodline, each and every single ancestor. If our ancestors worshiped water spirits, then those water spirits follow our bloodline. And if they worshipped or did root magic, then these spirits follow along with the water spirits also.

So here you are now, in the 2000s and you've been born. Or maybe 1980s or so on. You've got a loving mom and a loving dad. But spiritually, you have strong ties to waters, roots, mountain and grave covenants. That have all come through your ancestral bloodline. And like Moses, God will honor your family covenants they have entered into and have not yet been broken. Leviticus says, For the land is defiled. Therefore, I will visit the punishment of its iniquity upon it.

And the land vomits out its inhabitants. You shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments. And I shall not commit any of these abominations. The last process is, For all these abominations the men of the land have done who were before you. And thus the land is defiled. Lest the land vomit you out also when you defile it, As it vomited out the nations that were before it. The example given is the Amorites. It took 400 years for their iniquity to be fulfilled.

Eventually, God sent the Israelites back to conquer the land and destroy the nations living there. It takes a few generations for sin to pile up to a state that utter destruction is needed to cleanse the land of those sins. All people who came down into Africa would have started in Egypt. The commits. Proud, strong. Black nation, they worshipped all these foreign gods. Egypt, many pagan gods were taken by the ancient African people and their tribes to be their gods as they progressed into Africa.

And these covenants, heritage is black, may still be speaking in your life. And the same if you are a white person who passed through Europe and worshipped Roman gods and Odin. Those covenants your ancestors have entered may still be speaking today in your life. One of the telltale signs that you may have an issue in the realm of the spirit is when people start speaking about spiritual gifts. They speak about having the gift of seeing dead people.

Now, we know that the word of God says the dead know nothing. And when Jesus explained, he said that the rich man went to the place that was designated for him. And when he wanted to come back to the earth to warn others, Jesus said there are people upon the earth who are warning them. So we know the dead can't come back to life or can't come out of the grave to be seen of men. These are demonic spirits. Now, in order for you to see these demonic spirits, you either have to be in Christ, rooted, having your spiritual eyes open, or through your bloodline, there may be a spirit of divination that allows you to see these spirits.

Other people have used these so-called gifts in various ways. They have said that they can communicate to the dead. They have said that they can read your fortune. They can see things. And these are gifts that they've inherited through their bloodline. But this is a spirit of divination. These gifts will keep working until they are renounced and broken and the benefits of them repented. In Daniel chapter 9, we see that Daniel repents for the sins of his ancestors to God.

Because he knew that the sins and whatever covenants they have entered into were still speaking to him while he was around. And yet he was a faithful man of God who didn't do no wrong in the eyes of the Lord. But because of his ancestors, he repented of their sins. As the story goes, Daniel and the people of Israel were in captivity because of the sins of their ancestors. And that is a picture for you and I who are struggling with generational curses.

We are currently in captivity because of the sins of our ancestors. So Daniel, through no fault of his own, was a slave because of what his ancestors done. And sometimes you and I can feel just like that. A slave. A slave to our job. A slave to our kids. A slave to our friends. A slave to our families. A slave to our addictions. Because we have not addressed the conditions that brought us into such situations. The truth of the matter is our ancestors were.

And always God-worshipping people. And by God, I mean the God of Israel. We worship various gods, foreign gods, a mix of ancestral worship, a mix of gods, a mix of statues, a mix of worshipping the moon, the sun, the planets, and so on. And because of this, our bloodline is or was spiritually owned by one or more gods. Now listen to this very carefully. Spiritually, our bloodline is owned by one or more gods. In the realm of the spirit, there are agreements and covenants and records kept against us.

These agreements were made at altars. These altars have enforcers. These enforcers, as I said previously, are the ones that when we sleep, we see people with no faces standing at the bottom of our bed. These same things hold us down. The other things sleep with us. The other ones masquerade as family members. The other ones want to give us secret knowledge, wisdom, whisper to us, communicate things to us. These are the enforcers of the agreements that are in our bloodline.

These are the telltale signs that I am under a generational curse. You may say, but I am born again. And this is what I am leading to. The Bible says that you cannot serve two masters. So, if we are owned spiritually through our bloodline to all these other foreign gods, and we have given our life to Christ, but we are still operating with the benefits of those foreign gods, we are still serving two masters. We have to break covenant with the masters that our ancestors have brought into our future.

This is vital because we do not want that door our ancestors open to be opened to our children, because the spirits will move from you to our kids if we don't address the issues now while there is still time. We are considered the temple, the house of the Lord, the dwelling place of God. But if we are sold off to other gods, how can God come and dwell in us? We see for Abram that all the males had to have the foreskin cut off. This covenant meant that all the seed that proceeded from the generations of Abram would serve God and serve God only.

They would serve no other God. That seed will be in women who also serve God, or will go to women who also serve God. That is why God was very big on the men not sleeping with foreign women, because foreign women meant that God's seed is going to go into these women who serve foreign gods. Jesus purchased us with his blood. He needs to get what he paid for. And if we have accepted the payment, then what he has purchased, which is us, need to serve him and him alone.

Malachi 3 verse 3 says, He will sit as a refiner and a purifier of silver. Silver is always in connection with redemption. He will purify the sons of Levi and purge them a gold and silver that they may offer to the Lord an offering of righteousness. There is no record of silver in heaven. All purification required and all refinement will be done here upon the earth on you and I. There is no refinement in heaven. Everything that does not bring out the true silver quality in us must be removed from us.

Silver is purified seven times before it is given a pure silver rating. Seven represents divine perfection. Genesis 2 verse 2 says, God rested on the seventh day. Everything made was complete, good and perfect. The Hebrew word for seven is Sheva, from the root Savah, which means full, satisfied, have enough of. Sometimes it takes time to overcome something. So when we find ourselves repeating the same process over and over, we are fighting this battle on one thing.

It's a purification process that we are going through. That is why our righteousness will never work. The righteousness asked for and called for by God is His righteousness. It is perfect. It is separated. It is holy. It is associated with the Lord for the work of the Lord. I recall there was a lady I was helping and she wanted some quick fix to her problems that she had. And she had consulted over 80 gurus, spiritists, yoga masters. She did Catholic magic and she did quite a lot of things over the years.

I think it was 20 years from the ages of 20 to 45. She had been practicing all of this new age stuff. When we looked at her bloodline, her bloodline, her people were violent people. She recalls her grandfather was a serial rapist in the area. He raped many women. Her father was off, mentally off. I don't think that's the correct word to say, no. Mentally disabled. And he used to abuse her. He would chase her friends away. Her boyfriend molested her.

She was molested 19 times. And so the list was endless in the battles that she had to face. She was never married and she had no kids. She watched the mother being beaten constantly and always left bloodied by her dad. She came to Christ and she was seeking out help and she'd been to many different churches. And so I said, I will assist her. But because we were on two different continents, it wasn't easy. Just to automatically assist her. So I gave her some prayers and these prayers started introducing light into her life.

And it also started to mess with the demons that were messing around with her. And when we were exploring her relationship with her parents and her ancestors, I found that the demons kept re-entering into her. And I said to her, look, you need to forgive your dad, forgive your mother, forgive your grandfather, and forgive the people who have hurt you, who have assaulted you. And this was a bone of contention with her. And she was bitter. And she point blank refused to forgive any of them.

And I said, your refusal to forgive your ancestors, to pray for them, to release them from their crimes, is going to hinder your deliverance in life. And she just couldn't bring herself to forgive. And because of this unforgiveness she had towards her dad, because of this unforgiveness she had towards her grandfather and her people, she remained trapped. And her and I had to part ways because if she's not prepared to forgive, then the door stays open.

So whatever she does today will only keep the door open for those same demons to come back tomorrow. And that is exactly what she was experiencing. So as a trade-off, she complained that a lot of the prayers would kick some demons out and make others angry. And so she made an agreement that she wouldn't pray the prayers and they wouldn't torment her as much. And she ultimately settled for that. So Jesus never really got what he purchased with her, because instead of fighting the good fight of faith, she chose rather to make an agreement, another agreement, to say that I won't pray these fire prayers.

I won't stand in faith. I won't decree, declare. I won't put on the armor of God. I won't consecrate my life to Christ Jesus. I won't walk in the righteousness of Christ Jesus, be dedicated to God. God, I will pray gentle Jesus prayers. And with the gentle Jesus prayers, you will not attack me. And that was very sad. So my point being is that when she was born, she inherited a system that she never agreed to. And you and I, when we were born, we inherited systems we never really agreed to.

We just grew up thinking that this was normal. But the minute we accept Christ Jesus and we begin to... Now, we put aside all of these 110 different Gospels. We focus on the Gospel or the Doctrine of Jesus Christ. When we start applying the Doctrine of Jesus Christ, then we realize that what we've inherited, what we think of as normal, what seems natural to us to do, is actually wrong in the... And God says, I am a fair God. If the Son will not walk in the ways of the Father, meaning if the parents are evil, but choose a righteous way, then God is more and more than able to bless us in that way.

And this is what He is saying to us now. Go back and look at your family bloodline. See the covenants that are still in play. Forgive them. Repent of them. All transgressions, all iniquities, nail it to the cross. Release yourself from the burdens of those contracts and agreements. And when you start doing that, then choose to serve God and God alone so that you have only one master in operation in your life. And all the covenants that are coming back from the days of Adam and Eve and Noah and passing through Africa and passing through Europe will all be broken.

And by doing so, we start working on being set free completely in our physical, emotional walk of life. I'm your host, Ashton Campbell, and I hope this podcast has been insightful as it was to me also because as I was going along, some things have entered into my mind that I spoke of now. In the next installment, we are going to continue looking at generational curses. What I am trying to do is to show you that it's not just about a single prayer.

We have to also address the habits that we've picked up, the decisions that we make based upon what our family has decided, the notions and the traditions of our family to walk in a way of righteousness that Christ has left for us. Because breaking generational curses is not just limited to the prayer, it's a lifestyle change. And we have to call upon the Lord to introduce this new lifestyle change in our lives so that we can walk in the covenant that God has made for us, the covenant that gives us the blessings of God, the love of God, the righteousness of God, that gives us the faith that gives us the faith that is required to approach

God with a good conscience, that we're no longer worried about what our ancestors did that are affecting us today negatively.

It's not just about alcohol. It's not just about drugs. It's not just about womanizing. It's not just about obesity, gluttony. It's not just about finances and poverty. It's about a complete lifestyle overhaul. That is how we break these generational curses. Thank you very much. I'll catch you in the next podcast.
